

Dermatologist Dr. Tracy Campbell has been named one of Chicago's top doctors a few years in a row—an achievement she is truly honored by. “I love being a dermatologist and a Mohs micrographic surgeon,” she shares, “and am lucky to get to split my time between Derick Dermatology, Dundee Dermatology, and Moore Dermatology in the suburbs, while also still getting to practice medicine in the city at Chicago Cosmetic Surgery and Dermatology.” Having recently had a baby, Campbell spends her free time with her family and is hopeful her young children will keep her forever young.
